Guide for Families

The 2022 Alabama Families Read-at-Home Guide was designed to provide a variety of standards-based resources for regular, family-guided, home reading.

My Child Can! Third Grade Booklet

An Early Literacy Guide for Families

Dear Families,

The My Child Can! Third Grade Booklet, developed by the Alabama State Department of Education, is a guide to help Alabama families understand the critical reading knowledge expected to be mastered at the end of Third Grade by all Alabama students. We know the family is the child's first teacher in life and understand the learning needs of the child. Families are essential in setting high expectations for learning and encouraging their children's academic achievement, growth, and success! Your active participation and partnership with your child's teacher and school, along with reading support at home, is critical to his/her success in meeting the assessment standards established in Alabama.

This resource guide includes:

-  The 2021 Alabama English Language Arts Course of Study standards.
-  An explanation of what your child can do with your help.
-  Unplugged activities your family can do.
-  Interactive resources designed for your child.
-  Resources designed to assist you in supporting your child's learning.

Families Can

Before Reading:

Before reading, ask your child: What do you think this book will be about? Why do you think that? What characters do you think might be in this story?

During Reading: Who is the main character? What do you think will happen next? How do you think the character will handle this situation?

After Reading:

In your own words, tell me the most important things you read today in order of how they happened.

Third Grade

Literacy Foundations: Phonological Awareness/Phonemic Awareness

Alabama ELA Course of Study Standards

7. Demonstrate advanced phonemic awareness skills in spoken words (a-e).

My Child Can

7. My child can demonstrate advanced phonemic awareness skills in spoken words.

Families Can

Encourage your child to be word aware while reading. Have your child create an interactive vocabulary notebook while reading. He or she can add unknown words and words that help him or her understand the text. Ask your child to use reference tools to find the meaning of unknown words.

Provide and encourage your child to read books by the same author. These may be books in a series like the Cam Jansen series by David Adler. Help your child determine how the books characters, themes, settings, and plots are similar and how they are different.

- * How are the versions the same?
- * How did the theme/setting/plot of the different stories stay the same? What is different?

Word Part Detectives

Encourage your child to be a word detective by examining words in a text that have a prefix and/or a suffix added. Ask your child to write the word down and draw a square around the prefix, while chatting about what it means. Circle the suffix and discuss its meaning. How does the meaning of the word change when you remove the prefix or suffix?

Guess My Word

Before your child begins reading a text, choose several words that have more than one syllable. Write each syllable on index cards. Have your child read each syllable card and combine the syllables to make a multisyllable word.

Think about how your child's reading sounds. Does it sound conversational?

Provide tips and reminders.

- I can stop at periods.
- I can pause at commas.
- I can change my voice when I read conversation and dialogue.
- I can use expression as I read.
- I can read longer passages.

Third Grade Literacy Foundations: Vocabulary

Alabama ELA Course of Study Standards

13. Utilize new academic, content specific, grade-level vocabulary to make connections to previously learned words and relate new words to background knowledge.
14. Describe word relationships and nuances in word meanings, including relating them to their opposites and distinguishing shades of meaning in similar or related words, including nouns, verbs, and adjectives.
15. Analyze meaningful parts (morphemes) of words and phrases in discussions and/or text.

My Child Can

13. My child can utilize new academic, content specific, grade-level vocabulary to make connections to previously learned words and relate new words to background knowledge.
14. My child can describe word relationships and nuances in word meanings.
15. My child can use multiple strategies to understand the meaning of new words.

Families Can

Ask your child to read aloud. Make notes about your child's ability to read words correctly. If your child reads multiple words incorrectly, focus on specific word reading strategies.

Encourage your child to read at least 20 minutes in addition to school assignments. Read to and with your child. Make note of how your child responds when an unknown word is encountered. Remind your child to use strategies such as using context clues and dictionaries. Remind your child to use what is known about prefixes, suffixes, roots, and base words to figure out the meaning of unknown words.

Read picture books with your child and help your child to identify the various types of figurative language categories such as metaphors, similes, personification, hyperbole, and symbolism.
